IN THE CITY SERIES

Re-imagine the city through live performance, July – December 2013

2 WORKING IN THE CITY

A LEXICON OF LABOUR MOVEMENTS
29 August - 1 September

Digging into the working life of the city, through its tools and its actions.

Artists Clare Thornton and Paul Hurley have been exploring the working dynamics of the city, its edges and its centres - of production, of expertise, of interest and skill. Here they present an exhibition of these tools, alongside photography, drawings, and choreographed demonstrations of the actions associated with them. In the Tea Break Talk Labour Movements hosts a conversation on how we decipher, read and interpret tools and their relationship to our bodies.

WORKING IN THE CITY is co-curated by Knowle West Media Centre & The Showroom Projects.

3 WALKING IN THE CITY

A FOUR DAY EVENT EXPLORING BRISTOL
12 - 15 September

How can walking and talking change our experience of the city?

Join us for WALKING IN THE CITY, a four-day event exploring Bristol through artist led walks, talks, discussions and an evolving exhibition. Drift with Phil Smith, re-awaken your senses with Simone Kenyon and howl into the night with Simon Whitehead. Then rest your feet at The Parlour Showrooms, where artists Sue Maude and Sarah Rhys construct a live map, and Cara Davies opens the space for playful exchange with a Friday symposium and a Sunday brunch artists' talk.

WALKING IN THE CITY is co-curated by PLACE & The Showroom Projects.
